The learnings are captured in a series of white papers on Agile Business Transformation, with the first one looking at the 'why' in Agile Business Transformation. The below is an extract from the Why 'Agile' Business Transformation white paper.

~~Why 'Agile' Business Transformation (White paper included)~~

Agile business transformation is a modification to the way a business reacts to the frequently changing needs and demands of clients, changes to technologies, risks, business growth and any other internal or external change that may or may not be predictable. Whether referred to as a "business and process transformation" or "agile and lean business transformation", the definitions are essentially the same.
