~~How to raise pastured poultry for profit | WATTAGNet~~

Pastured poultry operations should "net much more per bird than in a conventional poultry system." With little sanitation problems on pasture, there is no need for antibiotics and little loss from illness. Forages provide the birds with much of their nutritional needs, and there are very minimal startup costs, according to Spencer.

~~Pasturing poultry for profits - Country Folks~~

SARE-funded researchers at Wisconsin's CIAS studied five farms that raise poultry on pasture and found that the systems, while highly variable, yielded a significant profit for growers who incorporate poultry into diversified farms.. CIAS researcher Stevenson said that in the beginning, people make it work best at lower numbers, around 1,000 birds per season.
